

MASTERFUL SERMON BY DR. EWART AT CHAUTAUQUA SUNDAY

Chautauqua Superintendent Delivers Great Religious Address To Good Sized Audience on Sunday Evening.

CONGRESSMAN RAINY, Monday Night's Chautauqua Orator.

Maysville's 1922 Chautauqua was opened Sunday afternoon with a concert by the Horseshoe band. There was a very good sized audience and the band never played better.

At night the religious services were really something far above the ordinary. Dr. Ewart, Superintendent of the local Chautauqua, delivered a sermon on "Life Ultimate Victory" that was a masterpiece of thought and oratory. We venture the prediction that the local Chautauqua will have no single program throughout the week that will eclipse in general satisfaction the service of Sunday evening. Hundreds of complimentary remarks on the address were heard from the audience at adjournment.

So pleased were those in attendance at the address, that it is certain Dr. Ewart will have unusually large morning audiences for his series of morning hour lectures.

Monday the chautauqua opens in earnest with a musical concert by the Swiss Yodlers in the afternoon and at night an address by Congressman Rainey followed by another concert by the Yodlers.

Indications are that the Chautauqua will be a great success. Season tickets have been sold enough to guarantee the price of the talent for the season. Something unusual has been done by the Talent Bureau in giving to the Leslie Arthur Post American Legion all money made above the cost of the talent.

COUNTY COURT DAY.

Monday was County Court Day in Maysville and because of the rain throughout this section, there was a very good crowd of farmers in the city and trading was very lively.

Miss Terese Gantley, of the Clift-Carr Shop, left Monday for Cincinnati to spend two weeks in the wholesale houses of that city to acquaint herself with the latest fall styles in millinery.

SANITARY CLOSETS SHOULD BE IN USE OVER COUNTY

Four Hundred Now Used in Mason County—Eight Hundred Others Should Be Installed.

The County Health Department issues this bulletin: Why every home in the county should be supplied with a Kentucky sanitary closet:

1. To comply with the spirit of the Mosaic law. Deuteronomy 23:12 and 13.
2. Human wastes spread disease, especially hookworms, typhoid fever and dysentery. This type of closet will confine this waste and all injurious germ life in it will be destroyed.
3. It will prevent flies from spreading filth and with it disease.
4. It will do away with what has been an intolerable nuisance—the old time vault.
5. It will be just as unobjectionable as a city closet connected to a sewer.
6. The flow from a Kentucky Sanitary closet is entirely free from bad odor.
7. It is more in keeping with that fine country home.
8. 400 homes in the county are supplied with the K. S. C. 800 homes still clinging to the methods in vogue 100 years ago.
9. You will be furnished forms for the concrete work and expert supervision free of charge.
10. The record of Mason county is at stake for other counties are building these closets faster than we are.

*Phone or write to the Mason County Health Department, Maysville, for estimates and information.

FALL FROM SECOND STORY WINDOW DOES LITTLE HURT.

Ann Kirk, bright little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Kirk of East Second street, fell from the second story window of the parents' home late Saturday afternoon to the concrete sidewalk below. While the little girl was badly bruised, her injuries were not serious. It is certainly miraculous that she was not fatally injured in the fall.

LESS THAN ONE THOUSAND VOTES CAST IN PRIMARY

No Interest Whatever Shown In Congressional Primary in Mason County—Fields and Snedegar Lead In County.

Saturday's state Congressional Primary was probably the quietest election of any kind ever held in Mason county. There was a total of less than one thousand votes cast in the entire county in both the Democratic and the Republican races. In some precincts there were no Republican votes cast during the entire day.

With the official ballots and boxes returned in all of the precincts except Dover Monday, total figures are as follows:

Republican.
Snedegar	59
Stricklin	22
Osborn	13
Total	94
Democrats
Fields	604
Duffy	118
Cole	108
Buckler	1
Total	831
Grand Total	925

ONLY ONE RACE IN ENTIRE STATE DOUBTFUL.

Louisville, Ky., August 7.—The only apparently doubtful race in Kentucky's state-wide primaries to select candidates for Congress was the Republican battle in the Ninth District, composed of 19 counties in the Big Sandy fringe of the mountains and edge of the blue grass.

In this, the largest district in the state, geographically as well as numerically, J. H. Stricklin, of Morgan county, apparently has a slight lead over Trumbo Snedegar, of Wyoming, for the indorsement, with George Osborn, of Greenup county, third.

The district ordinarily is 4,000 to 5,000 Democratic, and Congressman W. J. Fields, of Carter county, apparently has won renomination by a clear majority over all opponents, and has carried the district over his nearest competitor, H. C. Duffy, of Cynthiana, twice Speaker of the Kentucky House of Representatives, by at least 2,000 plurality.

Wm. O. Moats, of Morgantown, through carrying his home county, Butler, by 1,150 plurality, appears to be nominated in the Third District by the Republicans over Marmaduke Bowden, of Russellville, formerly of Louisville, and R. M. Amos, of Olmsted. Moats, his friends declare, will be shown by the official count to have more than 600 plurality over Bowden, the runner-up, whose margin in his own county, Logan, was 768 votes.

Though the backers of Hobson L. James, of Elizabethtown, said they would await the official county before conceding the nomination of Judge D. A. McConless, of Mumfordsville, to be the Democratic standard bearer in the Third Appellate District, McConless supporters said he had won in the 23 counties of the district by approximately 2,000. Eighteen counties gave to him a lead of 1,750. Lilburn Phelps, of Jamestown, will be the Republican nominee for the Court of Appeals in this district.

All Kentucky Congressmen who were candidates for renomination won by one-sided majorities.

INJURED WHEN AUTOMOBILES COLLIDE SUNDAY.

Mr. J. C. Cablish, prominent local merchant, was painfully cut and bruised Sunday when a truck he was driving collided with a machine driven by Miss Halfhill, of Orangeburg, at East Second and Union streets. Mr. Chris Brown, Donald McNamara and Mr. Cablish's young son who occupied the truck with Mr. Cablish, escaped with slight bruises. While Mr. Cablish's injuries are such as to confine him for several days they are not of a serious nature. Both machines were badly damaged.

MR. A. J. WHEELER DIES.

Mr. A. J. Wheeler, aged 78 years, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Daisy Roper in Sixth street, Monday morning at about 7:30 o'clock after an illness of several weeks of a complication. He is survived by five children, two daughters, Mrs. Roper, of this city, and Mrs. Charles Cooper, of Georgetown, Ohio, and three sons, Messrs. Elmer and William Wheeler, of this city and Mr. Perry Wheeler, of Manchester, N. H. The funeral will be Wednesday morning and burial will be made at Shannon.

GERMANTOWN FAIR IS BOOSTED.

TO FIGHT THE NEW U. S. COURT MOVE

Meeting of Eastern Kentucky Attorneys To Be Held at Phoenix Hotel Thursday Night.

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 7.—To protest against the establishment of a third Federal district court for Kentucky, a mass meeting of attorneys of the present eastern Kentucky district will be held Thursday night at 7 o'clock at the Phoenix hotel, here, it was announced Saturday by Lexington attorneys.

Notices of the meeting have been sent to attorneys in every town in this section of the state and in they are asked to notify Kelly Kash, Lexington, of their acceptance. Several scores are expected.

Establishment of the new court is the plan of John W. Langley, representative in Congress of the Tenth district, who is the author of a bill to come up for a vote in the early future. Attorneys backing the protest asserted yesterday that there is not sufficient business to justify the expenditure by the government, and say that the expense and inconvenience to the attorneys will be considerable if court sessions are set for a number of other towns.

Establishment of the proposed district would be a blow to Lexington and the other cities of eastern Kentucky, it is believed.

LOCAL WOMAN TO SPEAK AT CONFERENCE.

August 7-13, there will be held at the Southern Assembly Grounds, Lake Junaluska, N. C., a conference on "Life and Work," under the direction of the commission on temperance and social service of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, of which Bishop Cannon is chairman.

A program of useful and purposeful service to the Christian worker has been prepared, using the general subject "The Social Principles of the New Testament."

Mrs. R. P. Moody, of this city, who is superintendent of social service for the Kentucky Conference Woman's Missionary Society, will represent her conference in this meeting.

ADAMS COUNTY CORONER MEETS FRIENDS HERE.

'Squire William Warner, County Coroner of Adams county, Ohio, who suffered a broken leg when run down by an automobile at Point Pleasant, Ohio at the Grant Centennial Celebration, made his first trip to Maysville Monday after his accident. 'Squire is very popular in Maysville having many friends who were glad to greet him. Although he is still compelled to use crutches, he is rapidly recovering from his accident. 'Squire Warner's many Maysville friends are glad to know he will have no opposition for re-election to his fourth term as Coroner of our neighbor Ohio county this year.

OHIO PRIMARIES TUESDAY.

Keen interest is being shown in the neighboring counties in Ohio in the primary races to be held Tuesday in that state. In both Brown and Adams counties, an entire county ticket will be nominated. The most interesting race is between Congressman Chas. Kearns and Han. Cras. Crawford of Portsmouth, for the nomination for Congress.

Mr. John Owens, prominent resident of Robertson county, was in Maysville Monday on business and paid the Ledger a pleasant visit.

Miss Lettie Ogden, of Kenton county, Ky., is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Barnett, of Aberdeen, Ohio.

HOPE FOR PEACE IN RAIL STRIKE IS AGAIN HELD OUT

Conference Being Held at Whitehouse Indicate That Settlement May Come—Result of the Conferences Withheld.

Washington, August 6.—Although the results of the new negotiations between President Harding and representatives of the striking showmen had not been revealed today official Washington again assumed a hopeful attitude and drew encouragement from the assurances that no strike of the Big Four transportation brotherhoods is contemplated.

Arthur J. Lovell and J. Paul Stephens, legislative representative of the firemen and engineers, and the trainmen, respectively, who with H. E. Wills, of the engineers, conferred with the President yesterday on the condition of railroad equipment, departed for Cleveland to report to their chiefs. It is understood a meeting of the brotherhood officers is being arranged there.

The fact that the agents of the brotherhoods did not ask for a date on which their chiefs could see the President is taken to mean that Mr. Harding believes he can settle the strike before such a conference becomes necessary, and that he so informed them.

Officers of the shopmen insist it is only a question of a few days before the equipment of the roads begins to give away, but the executives deny there is any such imminent danger.

Significance is seen in the fact that Mr. Jewell is waiting in Washington for a further conference with the President. That he did not see Mr. Harding today was taken to mean that the President has not completed his process of feeling out the executives on the new peace move, but his presence within reach of the White House evidenced that the President's plan, so far as it is known to him, has not been rejected completely.

It is now accepted by Mr. Harding's close friends that the attempt to remove the seniority issue will be made through the Railroad Labor Board, the decisions of which both parties are pledged to support.

CREAM AND POULTRY PRODUCERS SIGN UP

First Week's Campaign of Association in Fleming County Success.

The results of the first week of campaign work in Fleming county for signers to the Farmers' Union Cream and Poultry-Egg Associations show a total of 600 cows and 13,000 hens, as reported by the State Farmers' Union Saturday night. The quotas for the county are 1,700 cows and 60,000 hens. Since only one-third of the 19 precincts of the county have been canvassed the outlook for the required number of signers is practically assured, Farmers' Union officials say.

Bracken county producers are signing as rapidly as solicitors meet them, and work in Robertson county will begin within 10 days. With the quotas for Mason county almost completed and the percentages of the producers in Adams and Brown counties, Ohio, increasing every week, the prospects for the required quotas of 6,000 cows and 190,000 hens to be signed in the Maysville district by September 1 are exceptionally bright.

Preparations for campaign work in the Lexington district and other districts of the state are being made as rapidly as plans can be perfected.

INVESTIGATION BEGUN INTO WRECK WHICH KILLED 37

Engineer Seems to Have Been Responsible for Crash of Passenger Trains which Killed 37 and Wounded Many More.

St. Louis, Aug. 7.—Formal probe into the fatal Sulphur Spring (Mo.) wreck on the Missouri Pacific, which claimed 37 lives, began today.

The investigation of the cause of the disaster was started at De Soto when Coroner George W. Elders called witnesses, including members of the crews of both trains, for questioning. Matt Glenn, 57, engineer of No. 4, the Texas Express, which crashed into local No. 32 later Saturday, was held responsible by John Cannon, assistant general manager of the road.

Glenn, according to road officials ran by a block set against him. The engineer, for 37 years, had no mark against his record.

Officials were certain block signals were set properly. Glenn was killed when he leaped from the cab just before the crash. The fast express telescoped four wooden coaches on the local, hurling them over a 20-foot embankment.

Approximately 140 injured were being cared for in St. Louis hospitals.

Thousands filed in an unending line past six bodies still unidentified at the morgue here. Three of these were men, one a woman and two children.

Six bodies were held at De Soto and the rest were brought here. Miss Mabel Steingrube, 20, St. Louis, who, with her sister, Florence, was a passenger on No. 4, told of her experience today.

"We were returning from our vacation and were riding in the second coach behind the baggage car. I was resting my head on the seat. My sister was across the aisle.

"Suddenly there came an awful crash. Something hit me in the mouth. Everything was confusion. I remember going to the water cooler and washing the blood from my face. Then everything seemed black. I don't know how I got out of the car.

"I can't describe the scene. It was too horrible."

"THE COLOSSUS OF ROADS"

One of the most interesting biographies which has been written in many years is the recently published life of Mr. E. H. Harriman, the great master builder of American railways, who recreated the Southern Pacific and the Union Pacific railroads into magnificent properties after they had fallen into almost utter decay, and whose activities were as numerous and whose dreams were as grandiose as those of Nebuchadnezzar—and far more constructive and enduring.

It is a characteristic story which Mr. Kennan tells of a poor boy who became famous—characteristic of America, where the Arabian Nights tales are eclipsed by the facts of real life.

In what other country could a man without means and without influence begin life in a brokerage office at five dollars a week and by middle life be in control of 60,000 miles of the finest railways in the world?

This has always been the land of golden opportunities, and is more truly so now than in the prime of Commodore Vanderbilt or E. H. Harriman. There were never such fields open to the investment of brains, energy, and industry as in the United States today. The young man who learns the secret of work, who has character, who is willing to make sacrifice, serve an apprenticeship and endure hardship, even with very ordinary abilities, can make a shining success in America. Whatever impediments a young man may meet in this land of infinite possibilities lie within himself and not in the conditions of his life. Men like Harriman have demonstrated that fact over and over.

It must be said, however, that Mr. Harriman in some respects, and in some phases of his business career, is anything but a worthy example. He was in part a speculator, and, to be candid, a gambler. But his ambition to acquire money, accompanied by some violations of the law and breaking of the principles of ethics, was always directed toward a great constructive program, and the power which he acquired was in the last analysis used consciously and deliberately for the public good and the growth and greatness of his country.

Mr. Harriman fought with giants, many of them selfish, hard, and unscrupulous and turned their own weapons against them. Business ethics were then upon a distinctly lower plane, the standards far less altruistic and moral than they are today, and the great railroad builder must be judged in the light of the time in which he lived and labored.

John Muir quotes him as follows:

"I never cared for money except as power for work. I was always lucky, and my friends and neighbors, observing my luck, brought their money to me to invest, and in this way I have come to handle large sums. What I most enjoy is the power of creation, getting into partnership with Nature in doing good, helping to feed man and beast and making everybody and everything a little better and happier."

The Harriman methods were not only questionable but distinctly reprehensible at times as he fought against the powerful forces that grappled with him in the field of high finance, but he left many evidences along the way of his generous motives and fine humanitarian spirit as well as empires, which rose like magic in the great West across which he flung his network of steel.

He founded the Boys' Club of the East Side; gave the great Palisades Interstate Park to his native state; organized an expedition to open up the secrets of Alaska; leashed the Colorado River in order to preserve the Imperial Valley, brought order out of chaos after the San Francisco earthquake and fire, and put new heart into the city; and, unknown to the public, did a thousand acts of kindness and beneficence out of a heart full of genuine philanthropy.

With all his faults he was a great man, rare in his genius and tenacity of will and love of achievement for the ends of civilization and the public weal.

CORN AND COIN.

With a crop estimated at nearly three billion bushels which will bring in the neighborhood of 60 cents a bushel on the average this year, the corn growers of the country will have something more than pin money to spend. They will receive something over $1,750,000,000 for their crop. The Democrats will hardly attempt to make an issue of that.

Something over a year ago the price of corn was so low that there was talk of using it for fuel in the west. Before the passage of the emergency tariff law we were importing considerable quantities of corn, most all of it from Argentina. This added to other conditions was having a most depressing effect on the corn market.

The coming year is to be a feast year for our cattle, hogs, sheep, chickens, horses and mules. Corn will put pep into the meat we eat; it will sweeten the bacon and put a yellow coat of fat on the chickens. It will add to the egg crop, enrich the milk, the butter and the cheese. It will strengthen the beast of burden and make more mellifluous the contralto of the mule. Human consumers of corn, from the pone to the flake, will be benefited by the enormous crop about to be reaped. Verily, Republicanism spells prosperity and corn is coin.

GRAND JURY GRINDS ON

Although the coal and rail strikes have distracted attention temporarily from the war fraud prosecutions, the special grand jury that has the matter in hand has been proceeding steadily with its work. Indictments have just been handed down charging ten men with defrauding the government in connection with the sale of surplus lumber. Their trials will be proceeded with without delay, and the grand jury will pursue other lines of inquiry suggested by Attorney General Daugherty.

In the present day Ford advertisements the portraits of the manufacturer occupies as large a space as the picture of his car. The display has all the earmarks of a political maneuver. Was it suggested by the "Ford for President Club?"

COMMITTEES ARE NAMED TO SELL POPPIES AUGUST 9

Next Wednesday is "Poppy Day" in Mason County—Memorial Flowers To Be Sold for National Memorial University Fund.

Wednesday, August 9, has been officially declared Mason county's National Memorial University Day, or "Poppy Day." On that day the crimson poppy, the flower of Flanders Fields, will be sold. These poppies are very beautiful, they are made by the French ladies, and sell for only ten cents each or as much more as you choose to pay for them. Surely every one can afford to wear a poppy.

The proceeds from the sale of these poppies will be Mason county's contribution to our National Memorial University, which will be a complete educational institution for our future American citizens, and a fitting tribute to our young American manhood who made life's supreme sacrifice in the World War.

The crimson poppy has been officially adopted by our nation as our National memorial emblem. It is therefore, the duty of every American citizen to wear a poppy on "Poppy Day." The following committees have been appointed to sell the poppies in the various towns of the county:

To plug watermelons.
To kill weeds and sprouts.
To gather your living from the garden.

To put the engine and cutter in order for silo filling.
To hope the drouth holds off until the corn and potato crops are safe.
To make the last hard drive against all bugs and fungous pests.

To set out strawberries. Plants set this month will bear well next spring.
To break wheat ground, and allow the seed bed to pulverize and pack moisture before seeding.

To give the hen house and coops another coat of whitewash. Mites, lice and disease germs can be more easily controlled.

To cut out the old canes in the black berry and raspberry patches while they can be easily distinguished from new shoots.

To keep fresh water for the pigs. A hog is a not far-distant relative of the hippopotamus, and likewise he needs his cooling bath.—Farm Life.

The Place Where ALL BIG STARS SHINE

Washington Opera House

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeanne Price

New York. — You can almost notice the falling off in our city population as you walk along the streets these days — so large a delegation of our prohibition agents have gone to Saratoga Springs to help out the local force which is trying to keep the place dry during the races. It was just too much to expect of the regular Saratoga allotment of officials, and New York City is stripped of much of its law-enforcing power for the time being. Of course the favorite joke of the season is spelling it Sa-ha-ra-toga.

Once more on ears are to be exposed to the critical world. Ears are not becoming to most of us, but what does fashion care for that? And none of my hats will fit if I do away with my present ear-puffings. I have had some relief, however, in inside information, that for daytime, I could go on covering my ears with permanent waves which I have wound so much better looking than my ears themselves. You know ears aren't pretty, in spite of the poets. In the evening only, must we conform to this new insistence upon ears decollete. "For evening, you must draw your hair up so that it comes clear above the ears and wear it high," I was informed by Mr. C. Neale, Manhattan's on final authority on matters of coiffures. "Don't think this means that you are to wear it drawn straight back. It is to be waved and adorned but it must be high and it must not drape the ears. The permanent wave will be more popular than ever, if that is pos-

NOT DUE TO SEX ALONE

Maysville Women Have Learned The Cause of Many Mysterious Pains and Aches.

Many women have come to know that sex isn't the reason for all back-aches, dizzy headaches and urinary disorders. Men have these troubles, too, and often they come from kidney weakness. To live simply, eat sparingly, take better care of one's self and to use Doan's Kidney Pills, is bound to help bad kidneys get better. There is no other remedy so well recommended by Maysville people. Ask your neighbor!

Mrs. R. L. Mattingly, 207, West Second street, Maysville, says: "I was in bad condition with my back and kidneys. I couldn't get my proper rest at night owing to the dull misery in my back. I was feeling so miserable I often had to let my housework go undone. I was dizzy by spells and suffered from rheumatic pains. I was so bad I couldn't walk without pushing a chair in front of me and my lower limbs were painful. My kidneys were in bad condition owing to their irregular action. Another of the family had used Doan's Kidney Pills successfully and that led me to and to O. Wood & Son's drug store for a couple of boxes. After using them I was all right. I have felt well since using Doan's and recommend them willingly."

Price 60 cents, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Mattingly had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Baby Wants Name, Not Gold, says mother.

CORNELIUS VANDERBILT WHITNEY

MISS EVAN BURROWS FONTAINE

MISS MARIE NORTON

The son of multi-millionaire Harry Payne Whitney, Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, has been asked to give his name to the 18-month-old baby of Miss Evan Burrows Fontaine, noted Oriental dancer of New York.

The action was started when the engagement of young Whitney to Miss Marie Norton, society girl of New York, was announced.

The dancer claims young Whitney wanted to marry her while he was student at Yale but she refused as there was a true love match and she didn't want to hurt his career. He grew cold, she says, when she told him of the baby, which she now calls Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, Jr.

It's a name not gold that my baby wants, she says.

Miss Norton says her friendship for young Whitney is unchanged.

sible, because high coiffures are trying to most women and require the softening effect of the wave in order not to add years to their appearance. With soft waves, and the sheen which proper waving gives, you will soon become attached to this new style as you have been to the low-draped looks. And for evening wear it is essential. So there is the word of the country's chief authority on waves and tresses!

Jessica E. Smith, 25 East Sixty-fourth street, was the first woman automobile driver in America, so she says and so all obtainable records show. At least, it is certain that she was the first woman to get a license to drive. After all these years with a perfect record, she came to grief for the first time the other day when she was summoned to Traffic Court charged with speeding on Fifth avenue. She was so apologetic and her past record was so good that sentence was suspended.

There seems absolutely no limit to the things some people can do and say and remain unscathed. I was in an office-building elevator with a man friend of mine the other day. Beside us stood a distinguished looking man with graying hair. My friend turned to him with a most admiring smile. "Your hair is exactly like a silver fox, isn't it?" he asked. The man smiled and blushed a little and stammered, "Why, perhaps it is." "Who was that man?" I asked when we were out of the car. "I don't know," was the unabashed reply. "I never saw him before."

The Theater Guild has acquired for production at some future time, a German play by Paul Apel, "Hans Sun-scraper's Trip to Hell." It is a dream-play, a comedy, and the title orle will be played by Joseph Schildkraut who is a member of the Theater Guild's regular company for another two years. Mr. Schildkraut played the title role in "Liliom," which was not unlike this new Apel play.

Not in many months has the West Side Court had the thrill which was given it the other morning when Prince Louis Henri de Chateauroux de Bourbon strode majestically into court and out again, having been discharged by the judge from a complaint entered against him. His costume consisted of a soldier's peaked cap with two gold bars on it, white collar, white coat with black band of mourning on the sleeve, and gold braid trimming; brown whipcord trousers, brown puttees and an army belt and sword. The mourning, he explained, was in honor of the late Czar of Russia. He testified that he is "the first Prince of France," a graduate of Oxford, and a soldier in the Russian Royal army.

We are getting even with New Jersey. This summer, New Jersey sent her mosquitoes over to us in such hordes as they never had come before. We were agitated and offended. We had joked Jersey about her skitter for generations. We wished the lake to remain as it was. It not only pricked our skins but hurt our pride when they swarmed down on us this year. But now we are even. We are sending out bucket-loads over to Jersey in exchange District Attorney's onslaught has frightened them away from Manhattan and the ferries are busy carrying them and their light equipment over to the Jersey side.

McLEAN FARMERS UNITE FOR HERD IMPROVEMENT.

Lexington, Ky. —Interested McLean county farmers who are cooperating with the extension division of the College of Agriculture are taking steps to build up dairy herds in that section of the state which eventually should make the county one of the outstanding ones in Kentucky's dairy industry, according to E. M. Prewitt, dairy extension specialist of the college.

Following the recent organization of a cooperative purebred Jersey sire association, which was promoted by County Agent R. H. Ford and the extension division, those interested in dairy herd improvement set about to bring registered Jersey heifers into the county to be used as the foundation stock for high producing dairy herds.

The new organized sire association has a total of 48 members who own three high-class Jersey sire co-operatively. The organization is divided into three blocks, each one of which has the use of one of the sires for two years after which the animals will be changed to different blocks. By this means members of the association will be able to obtain the services of a good sire over a period of six years with the added advantage of small cost.

Six farmers in the county have already signified their intentions of buying bred registered heifers in line with the new movement. L. D. Leachman will purchase two, Hugh Herndon one and Allen Taylor, G. D. Robertson, Bud Walker and C. C. Son two each. In addition Mr. Walker already has purchased a registered Jersey bull that is a grandson of the world famous Fannie's Prince. Other farmers are expected to be enlisted in the proposed plan of herd improvement as the movement gains headway.

The use of the purebred sires owned by members of the co-operative association on the registered heifers which are to be brought into the county is expected to be a potent factor in the development of McLean county's dairying. The heifer calves that are produced will be saved with the idea of building up registered herds after which official testing of cows for butterfat production will be started.

NEW RICHMOND MAN FOUND IN A HOTEL IN CINCINNATI

Railroad Clerk, Who Mysteriously Disappeared from New Richmond Leaving Suicide Note Is Found.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Aug. 7. — Fred Bannister, 52 years old, New Richmond, Ohio, Big Four Railroad clerk, who disappeared from his home Saturday, was found by friends Sunday at the Dennison Hotel, Cincinnati, after he had walked from New Richmond to Amelia, a distance of 10 miles, and then to Cincinnati, approximately 20 miles.

Friends of Bannister in New Richmond said last night that he had been working hard recently, and also studying railroad matters in an extension school, and they believed he had been mentally ill by reason of the strain under which he was working.

A note reading: "Fred Bannister has been murdered by the lies of hypocrites," was found on a table in his home Saturday morning and this led to the belief that he had ended his life.

Bannister has served as Mayor, member of Council, member of the School Board and has held other public offices in New Richmond. Recently he had been acting as volunteer preacher at the New Richmond Christian church.

It is said that Bannister is to be sent to a hospital this morning until his health improves sufficiently for him to return to his home, where he has been living alone. He is unmarried.

ABOUT BATHING AT

BEECHWOOD THIS WEEK.

For the information of the public during this (Chautauqua) week, we quote from the official announcement of the regular Beechwood Park management published in last Wednesday's paper as follows:

"The morning, afternoon and evening gate admissions to the grounds or Chautauqua, will be one and the same, i. e., a Chautauqua ticket. All other gate admission tickets and passes for the park are void for Chautauqua week.

"The bathing beach and bath house will continue to operate as usual subject to the Chautauqua gate admission. "To the many who are enjoying a daily or frequent swim in the beautiful Ohio during this hot weather, we would suggest the desirability and economy of the purchase of a Chautauqua season ticket. A swim in the Ohio and a basket lunch on the ground in between the afternoon and evening programs is just the idea.

"The entire proceeds at the gate go to the Leslie H. Arthur Post with no rental charge for the grounds in accordance with agreement made last year."

CARDINALS DROP TWO GAMES TO THE MT. STERLING CLUB

Both Saturday's and Sunday's Games Are Lost By Locals To Visitors From Montgomery's Capital.

Looks as if we need a new deck or if the Cards got a right good shuffle they might be a better match for the opposition. In Saturday's and Sunday's game the Cardinals were hardly strong enough to give the Mt. Sterling Essex a stiff practice and for the second time this season suffered four consecutive defeats besides resting securely in fourth place the lowest position ever occupied this year.

In each game the visitors called upon their star hurler Harrison to rescue an Indian twirler by the name of Neyrey after the locals scored two runs in the first frame of each game and tied the score only to have the Essex follow in the next inning with five runs. In Sunday's game the Indian lost no time in telling those responsible what poor sportsmanship it was to yank a hurler after his club had secured a five run lead and the crowd backed him up in his argument not only because he was right but also they knew how slim their chances were against Harrison. In the past three games three clubs have passed the Cards in the pennant race but there is this consolation, we are two full games ahead of Mt. Sterling and they can not possibly overtake us before next Sunday.
